Looking on intently, the ELA 12 class draws as much knowledge as they can from their teacher. Senior classes can be more difficult, but these students have each other to rely on after four years of classes together.

What makes you you?

"I own two turtles named Stacey and Jack." -DEAN SILVEIRA JR.

"I'm athletic, smart, with a unique sense of humor. I'm also fun-sized." -LIANA RIBEIRO

"Making my friends laugh, and trying a hard as I can not to laugh at my own jokes." -NOAH JOHNSON

ADERITO CENTEIO works on a project in Marine Science class, honing his creativity and love for art. He says, "Graphic design is my favorite class because it's my passion."

ROBERTO DEJESUS studies hard in Entrepreneurship class, working towards the ultimate goal: graduation.

We are A Rooted

What are you rooted in?

As we begin senior year and look ahead to graduation, we are only as strong as our roots— the people, places and experiences that help us grow into who we are. There have been key moments in our lives that have shaped us into the people we are today. Without these experiences, our lives would not be the same. Whether good or bad, funny or sad, every instance is important, allowing us to sprout into who we want to become.

Many of us have had pivotal moments that are crucial in our growth, such as moving to a new school or joining a new club. "Moving here from New York was a completely new setting and new life," explained TIFFANY ARITA-MORALES. For her, NBHS was a new environment that she needed to become accustomed to, with new people to befriend. However, she is now rooted into the Whaler community.

She is not alone; many students find a lot of encouragement in the NBHS family. MEGAN DACOSTA loves her school because of "the support everyone gives each other, especially at sports events and on Red & White days."

Others, like ROBERTO DEJESUS, have one person in their life who inspires them, helping them become rooted into who they are as they enter adulthood. "My mother. My mom faces challenges everyday and always find a way to make me happy," DEJESUS explained.

As a senior class, we sprouting into adults. But we remain rooted in our families and friendships, in our communities, in our school, and in ourselves.

"My favorite part of new Bedford High is the support everyone gives each other."

Back to the Roots

Gathering around their statistics project WILSON GOMES, NYASIA GRACE, ALYSSA ARAUJO, and LAURA PONTE add the last finishing touches to their poster board. Preparing themselves to present to the class, they go over their parts. GRACE'S favorite part about this class is "How she's never afraid to mess around with the kids, especially Wilson."

Proudly showing off her project, NATALIE RIVAS holds up her poster board to Ms. Sengupta, who is one of her favorite teachers and all-around people at the school. "She is a great teacher," RIVAS says.

MARTA LUCAS LAZARO pretends to be loaded into an ambulance by TYLER CHRISTMAS and ALEXANDER SANTOS in Mr. Florio's EMT class.

ALFREDO BONGIORNO pays attention in Mr. Gaitane's Pre-Calculus class, while ANTHONY SOARES III laughs along.

LIDIA CENTEIO hugs Ms. Jupin outside of her class.

A laugh escapes MARINA HAGHIGHAT and JOSEPH KINGARA during Mr. Mason's music fundamentals class. HAGHIGHAT'S favorite part of NBHS is "the diversity of the school and how we all interact with each other, learning about different backgrounds!"

Why Did you Choose New Bedford High School?

"To bring the city back to the way it used to be." -ELIJAH DIAZ

"Past family members have come here and loved their experience and I wanted to have the same experience they did." -CLAYTON DEMELO

"I wanted to be a part of the fine arts." -YOLANDA JOIA

Rooted in Your Passion

RENE DURAN has a smile on his face during piano class with Mr. Langille. This is not his only talent; he is also a dedicated soccer player. "Soccer taught me to learn to love one another and show respect," said DURAN. His love for soccer has even fueled his hope to coach a team of his own.

ALISON BORGES has been creating art for as long as she can remember, and she hopes to carry that with her throughout college and even in life. "Art has influenced me by filling my free time with something positive to do and making me an overall more creative and focused person," said BORGES.

Marching band is a major class for the band students, both during the school day and after school at rehearsals. Music is more than just what is on the radio for KAMAL RITTER-FEBUS, who plays the drums. Music is his passion and he hopes to pursue music after high school and even enter music education: "Music is a way of communication, an art form, and a part of me. I spend so much time doing it it's become a part of me," RITTER-FEBUS said.

Rehearsal is only one step in learning to read music during Concert Chorale for LEAH LEAHY, MADISON ASHWORTH, and RHYAM RAMOS. They have all been a part of the music program for all four years and are dedicated musicians.

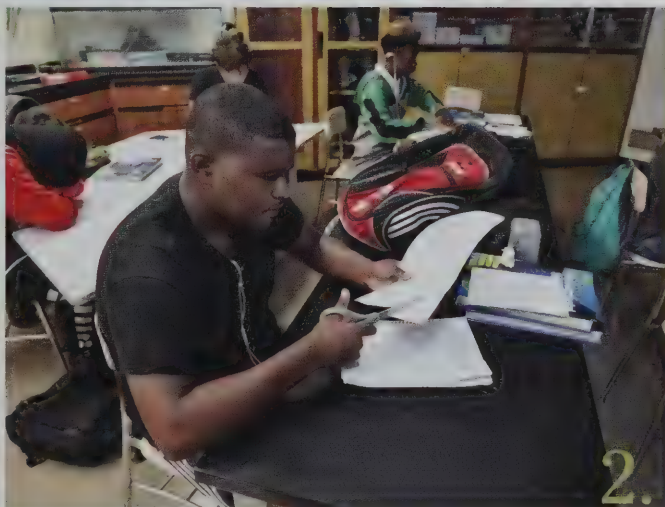

AP Studio Art is a class that takes dedication and passion. For XIOMARYS RAMIREZ that is the easy part: "I started at two with crayons and practiced consistently since then," said RAMIREZ. She hopes to pursue art after high school and even use it to help fight environmental issues by helping to capture the world's beauty.

Environmental science is just one of the science classes that XIOMARYS RAMIREZ and LEIRA VAZQUEZ BERROCALES have taken in preparation to enter the medical field post high school. Although the work isn't always easy, RAMIREZ is happy to have the extra push from her friends, "Leira has pushed me to find a positive when I'm negative," she stated.

1. Studying hard in Mr. Huston's sports medicine class DINO MELO and ERIN REZENDES both understand the importance of proper injury treatment as student athletes.

2. Working intently on his activity in Environmental science, VICTOR LOPES CARDOSO shows patience and determination to get his work done for Mrs. Gifford.

3. Concentrated on her music, SARA LOPES practices diligently in strings class.

What was the best part?

ERCIA MORENO DOS SANTOS TRINDADE (from Cape Verde): "Living with my mother."

JOSEPH KINGARA (from Kenya): "Steady climate all through the year."

ZAIRA RUBIO RODRIGUEZ (from Mexico): "Favorite part was everything."

DAMANY CONDE (from Angola): "Friends and family."

In the middle of Mount Lebanon, Lebanon, EMANUELE ABI-YOUNES sits on an ATV. All she can remember is feeling like she could do anything. I felt free," said ABI-YOUNES.

As she threw bread crumbs, the birds swooped by and gathered around LEIRA VASQUEZ BERROCALES in Pacey De Las Palomas, Puerto Rico. "It's a beautiful place, which is very fun," said VASQUEZ BERROCALES.

It's a bird, it's a plane, no, it's MARINA HAGHIGHAT soaring through the skies of Kish, Iran with her cousin, Amir. "The view was amazing and many memories were made on the trip!" said HAGHIGHAT.

Jumping from stone to stone, ASHLEY ROCHA finds serenity with each step she takes in Achada, Portugal. "I felt happy and at peace," said ROCHA.

After a firm kiss planted on the dolphin's head, CLAYTON DEMELO swims with these beautiful animals in Riviera Maya, Mexico. "I was excited to be able to swim with dolphins for the first time," said DEMELO.

Just Dance

Junior Banquet 2017

As soon as the night began, the excitement kicked in, and soon after everyone was poppin', lockin' and droppin' on the dance floor. Junior Banquet was a night filled with excitement and laughs. After talking with the students it is obvious that tonight fell into place perfectly. Rachel's Lakeside in Dartmouth was home to laughter and long lasting memories.

As the night went on, more and more gathered on the dance floor to celebrate, ending Junior year on a high note. After studying long and hard for their finals, everyone came together to celebrate; the pressure was now off their shoulders!

KAITLYN GONCALVES, remembers the night fondly: "A night filled with a lot of great memories spent with great friends." Mare, the photography studio that works with the school, captured the night perfectly. All who attended looked photo ready in their attire.

Everyone dressed to impress, like ANNA TORRES with a dress from "Express." People spent a lot of time getting ready for the banquet and it showed. ANA NUNEZ ran through the rain, jumped over puddles, frantically trying to avoid any catastrophe. "I think tonight went great because my hair didn't get wet!" NUNEZ exclaimed after arriving at Rachel's Lakeside with no worries.

Along with enjoying their time on the dance floor, the students were presented with a huge array of food. ALISON BORGES, and many others can agree that the dessert was the cherry on top of the amazing evening.

SHAFON PEREIRA and YASID AFZAAL together enjoying the night.

CATHERINE FERREIRA, BRENDEN BOWMAN, and YALYNN FIGUEROA are captured here smiling in excitement for what the night has to hold.

Posing for the camera, RITA VASQUEZ, NICOLE SOUSA NETO, EMANUEL MEDEIROS, and MIRIAM PEREZ MELARA take this amazing picture.

2: Dancing their cares away at Junior Banquet at Rachel's Lakeside, SARA LOPEZ, IANELLA WILLIAMS and MENG LIU step to "The Cha Cha Slide." "It was awkward at first but I gradually opened up!" LIU tells friends after hitting the dance floor.

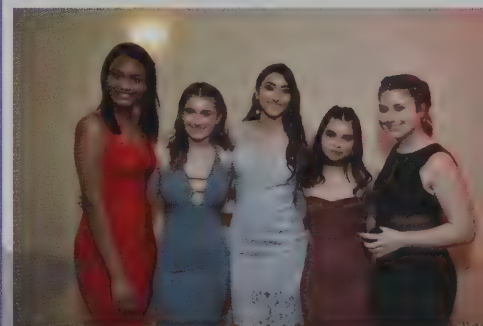

At their table in Rachel's Lakeside waiting for Junior Banquet to begin, MEGAN LIMA, YOLANDA JOIA, and ANNA TORRES discuss which song they hope will play to start off the night.

Enjoying the Junior Banquet together as close friends, MARIAH CRUZ and IANELLA WILLIAMS hold on to the night. The two had a great time dancing.

ANNA TORRES, NIARA VIOLA, CASSIE RAPOSO, and NY'ASIA GRACE, got up and hit the dance floor, sharing a laugh.

ANGELICA NASCIMENTO, EMANUELE ABI-YOUNES, MARINA HAGHIGHAT, ANA NUNEZ, and RILEY BUCKNELL (Sophomore) are pros at taking pictures together. "Tonight was amazing and so was sharing it with my friends," HAGHIGHAT said after taking plenty of pictures.

Dancing their way to center stage at Rachel's Lakeside during Junior Banquet, VICTOR LOPEZ JR. and WILSON GOMES make the crowd go wild. "It was one of the best times I had all year," said LOPEZ.

Stepping into Senior Year

Loud chants fill the auditorium on June 22nd, 2017 as the Whalers show their pride, fully clothed in red and white and preparing themselves for the role of being Seniors. Without a doubt, this is the moment that all upcoming Seniors look forward to towards the end of the school year. The last day as Juniors is a bittersweet moment for each of them.

As everyone took their seats and held in their enthusiasm, Class Secretary TORI CALBO got ready to give a memorable speech. "Let's do it big! Senior year is the last year to give it your all and make your mark. And I believe the class of 2018 will do exactly that," said CALBO.

Following the Class Secretary, the Class President NY'ASIA GRACE stepped up to the plate. She remembers, "The most important part of my speech was trying to tie everyone together as one, to realize that this is our last year to make new bonds with people, make new memories, and show school spirit."

Next, after awaiting their moment,

ABIGAIL GONZALEZ and her fellow cheerleaders make their way up the stage. With pompons in hand and an eager smile, GONZALEZ stands in front of her audience ready to get the crowd pumped up. "I felt excited to be preforming with my team for the school," said GONZALEZ.

BY: ANA NUNEZ

Overwhelmed with the speeches VICTORIA JASME, NAIRA VIOLA, JOANNA MAGNANT (Junior) and HANICE ANDRADE set their focus on their senior goals. "Wow, I'm really happy and excited for my senior year," exclaimed ANDRADE.

JUSTIN GONZALEZ sits with NICHOLAS MEDEIROS in the auditorium waiting to receive the whale. Looking back from the beginning of his Junior year to this day, GONZALEZ said, "It's something I'll always remember because you only become a Senior once. I felt accomplished."

Fully spirited dressed in red and white, TYREK KEY-RATHER is awarded "Most Spirited Whaler" by MRS. CETENICH. "One thing I won't forget about Passing of the Whale is how loud we were and just everyone being happy, yelling "SENIORS!" says KEY-RATHER.

Cheering their way to the stage ABIGAIL GONZALEZ, TRINITY VIERA (Sophomore), KAHJA RIBEIRO PERRY (Sophomore), MARISA CORREIA (Junior), and DESTINY MUNIZ (Junior) get the crowd rallied up. "I felt excited to be preforming with my team for the school," said GONZALEZ.

Ready to receive the whale, JEROME ADAMS III, NOAH JOHNSON, DEVEN DIXON, VALADEZ, IANELLA WILLIAMS, come together in the auditorium for their final moments as Juniors. "I felt nervous in the beginning and excited at the end; it made me realize how much being a senior matters," said JOHNSON.

Determined to take the whale, Class Secretary TORI CALBO runs across the auditorium floor. "It's our last year to make it shine and we have to give it our all so everyone can remember that the Class of 2018 did it big!" said CALBO.

Standing tall and focused on her audience, Class President NY'ASIA GRACE seemed confident but was rather nervous. "I was worried the whole week even though I'm a people person. I just had the fear that I had to overcome, but after I spoke, it was weight lifted off my shoulders," said GRACE.

Faculty & Staff cultivating

The roots lay below the surface, away from the gaze of any wandering eye. People only see the result of the healthy plant with its vibrant colors, forgetting that is the prosperity that comes from its living roots that grew through rocky soil. Their tendrils reach towards the center of the Earth. As they keep growing down, reaching deeper, the plant grows up, maturing and becoming stronger.

Here at New Bedford High, we are rooted. Behind the faces of every student and teacher lies a unique story of strength. "Before going into teaching, I was at school to be a large animal veterinarian. I traveled to many different farms all over the country, and learned interesting things along the way," teacher MS. KELLE BARBOSA said.

Only the students know the countless hours that teachers have spent in dedication to their studies. It isn't simply a teacher but a person who inspires the students to give

"I thank God everyday for the mistakes I made in my past because they made me stronger."

-NASHALY AVILES LINARES

his or her best everyday. "Teachers, they devote most of their time to shaping other people's futures," KAY-LEIGH JOHNSON said. The faculty, staff and students alike learn and grow along the way. "I thank God everyday for the mistakes I have made in my past because they made me stronger and the person I am today," NASHALY AVILES LINARES said. The time the teachers spend cultivating the students' seeds of tenacious dedication ensure that our roots will only continue to grow deeper and deeper.

To the Class of 2018,

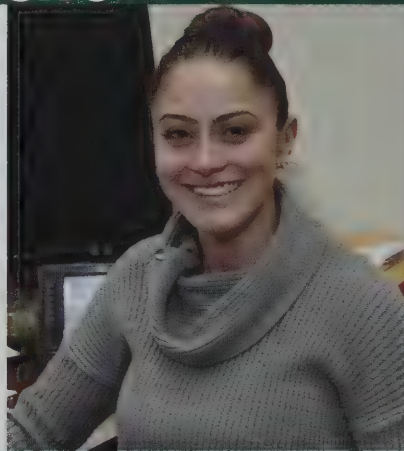

Congratulations on your achievement! After a twelve-year journey you have earned your high school diploma, reaching a major milestone. Take time to celebrate and reflect on what it took to get here. You have worked hard, demonstrating genuine commitment, courage and perseverance throughout those years. You now leave New Bedford High School a well-rounded scholar with a strong foundation that will help to shape the next phase of your school and work career. Go forward with confidence in knowing that with continued hard work you can accomplish great things. Incorporate New Bedford High School's core values in all that you do: Responsibility, Respect, Determination, Pride and Creativity. Thank you for making NBHS a great place to learn. You will forever be a part of the New Bedford High School Whaler family.

Sprouting

Since first stepping into the high school as freshmen, every student of the class of 2018 has grown drastically in his or her own way. As the seniors blossom into maturity, they can look back on four years of battling the elements and thriving in harsh environments. MARIA CARDOSO proclaimed, "I think I was more shy freshman year." But now as a senior, like many others, that former shyness has been shed.

Starting as just a seed, the journey of growth is full of new experience. RHYAN RAMOS described her time at NBHS as, "stressful but fun." RAMOS' words couldn't be more true as seniors have struggled through the implementation of the Turn Around Plan and many students battle through AP courses. Being able to look back on it all, now the accomplishments cause us to bleed red and white.

Looking to the future, this class will have a lifetime of new growth as they sprout into adults.

Everyone will go their ways into

workforce, but the journey is just beginning. Whether you go far or stay close, the next few years will foster some of the greatest growth. CATHERINE FERREIRA who plans on "attending college at Bridgewater," will build her career with a college education. So, as the high school experience draws to a close, you can remember your freshman year, sprouting throughout your time spent at NBHS, and now focus on the future as you sprout into life.

Little Acorns

Tag you're it! As kids, we were always in a rush, completely full of energy and ready to take on the world. Without a single care in the world, like the late nights staying up doing homework, or work after school, or chores that had to be done, we just enjoyed life. All we cared for was to grow up, but now we wish we could go back to the simple times when you could sit and color for hours, play in the park, and annoy your parents.

We all have different ideas about what we would do if we could go back to those days of juice boxes and crayons. For CLARE BLANCHARD, what she seems to miss is the amount of sleep: "If I had the chance, I would nap everyday." Some might wish they were able to be do more in their childhood, such as CINDY NGUYEN who says, "I would encourage my brother to teach me to play tennis so could play better now."

As for JAYLIANA BRITO, it was

"If I had the chance, I would nap everyday."

-CLARE BLANCHARD

not so much about what activities she was involved in , but rather being able to express herself and show more gratitude, enjoying everything she had. BRITO said, "I would appreciate the little things and enjoy life for the moment."

From the Class Advisors

Class of 2018,

Time has flown by since you first arrived at your house cafeteria your first day of school at NBHS in 2014. The school was in the beginning stages of the Turnaround Plan with a new Headmaster and administrators. Since that first day, you have continued to see changes at the high school with much more positive results with Ms. Bernadette Coelho as our leader. All of you have persevered with your studies to pass another milestone in your journey of life: graduation. Through your academics, club activities, sports and community service, you have exemplified the NBHS Core Values and Beliefs About Learning, which will guide you on the future paths you choose to take. After graduation, some of you will be attending either a four-year college, a two-year college, a Technical program, joining the military, or working full-time at a job of your choice. Whichever road you choose to begin, we hope that you bring the NBHS Core Values with you. Remember to always give Respect to yourself and others who you will encounter in your life; to practice Determination to meet your goals even when life gets in your way and to never give up; to show Pride in all your accomplishments that help you reach success; to take Responsibility for the decisions you make, whether good or bad and be able to reach deep inside of yourself to reach achievements in life; and Creativity to have fun and be able to laugh at yourself even when life throws you curve balls.

Our wish for you is to learn from your mistakes, understand that it takes much work to succeed, find rainbows when dark days may get you down, believe in your ability to make any of your dreams come true, and to continue to learn throughout your life's journey. Congratulations and Good Luck!

SPORTS DIGGING IN

At New Bedford High School, there is a tradition of excellence maintained through the athletics program. Student-athletes spend their years at here digging in to carry out this tradition. They dig in to their character, their leadership skills, and their work ethic to make strong teams and to grow as players. An extremely diverse, hardworking group of people make up the student-athlete population. One of these is ADINA LEE-RIVAS, a New Bedford native who spent many years in California. On the topic of coming from another athletic program to ours, RIVAS had to say, "The atmosphere was different, but it was adjustable."

Most athletes consider their teams as second families, growing together in their skills. ELIAS PEREZ, a member of the varsity boys basketball team, left the school for Sophomore and Junior year but returned for his Senior year. PEREZ said, "It's been great; they took me in like family right away." This type of thing is what comes to mind about the New Bedford High tradition of inclusion and excellence. Many of our athletes

"They took me in like family right away"
- ELIAS PEREZ

excel in sports they would never have tried. Two-year varsity lacrosse player SETI PEREIRA can relate. PEREIRA has had loads of fun on the boys lacrosse team he joined Sophomore year. His favorite game by far was when "it was downpouring, and we won by one goal. It was nuts." So many athletes undoubtedly have similar stories of triumph, of working hard and digging in.

ENDZONE

Hurry-up, tackle, pass and attack! The football team had an amazing season and made NBHS proud. "It means a lot to be a part of this school and being a Whaler. Once a Whaler always a Whaler," DINO MELO said. Football requires perseverance, hard work, sacrifice, and dedication. This sport has impacted many of these young athletes to push through obstacles and do their best on and off the field. In doing so, they are becoming better people. "My football coach inspired me to do my best and to never settle for less, he kept pushing me back on track," ISAIAH ROBERTSON said.

Coach DeBrito takes his love for the game and instills it into his players. He has shaped these boys into the players he knows they can become. The coaches have watched the talent and dedication grow within the players day in and day out. DeBrito has encouraged the boys to play their hardest.

The team worked hard this season.

The most intense game was, "the Dartmouth game, because they are one of our rival teams and we were able to come out with a win," EDGAR SEMEDO said. Football is a game about teamwork, dedication and strength. Each player has improved both mentally and physically over the season, inspiring them to do well after high school.

"Once a Whaler, always a Whaler."

TRACK

Don't stop! Keep your head up! Try to keep your form! With many twists and turns, the cross country girls were able to better themselves through dedication and determination. Each one of them worked hard to show what they had to bring to the course, not only to win the race but to improve in their time. They grew not only as individuals but as a team, creating new friendships and bonds that they will remember for years to come.

Captain ANNA LIN works hard to keep herself and her teammates motivated and encourages them as well as they encourage her to not give up. "Cross country is definitely an unforgettable experience that just gets better each year," said LIN. According to the girls, cross country was full of hard work, but when it came down to it, they also cracked jokes.

Continuing the race, freshman VICTORIA OLIVEIRA makes a great effort to finish the course strong against Dartmouth.

SUSAN LI LIANG explains her cross country experience as being unique by saying, "The best part of Cross Country was having pool workouts."

COURSE

This year's Cross Country Team wasn't like any other in the past years at the high school. They were comprised entirely of underclassmen, with no runners that were seniors. This is quite admirable in the conference they are in, where they battled large athletic schools all season that had hefty memberships. According to junior JOSE CORNEJO, the toughest opponent the boys faced this season was "Brockton." CORNEJO said they "had a big team with very strong runners."

The group of young men, who ran literal circles around the other fall teams, formed a special bond. Most of them will no doubt be returning next year for the 2018 fall season. Moving through the ranks as a team, many joined because of friends. This is the case for sophomore MICHAEL FLYNN. New to the team, FLYNN said he joined because "my friend and I started running."

Chicks with STICKS

After a long and tough season, the field hockey girls are beyond impressed with the progress their team has made. "My team has made many improvements as the season progressed, the team having many inexperienced players," ERIN REZENDES, Co-Captain, said. Coach Rebello credits the girls for being one of the most progressive teams from the beginning of the season all the way to the end. The girls consistently worked together to help carry the team as far as they could go.

The team that fought relentlessly throughout the season suffered some heartbreaking losses, but rejoiced in wins that reminded them all why they picked up that stick Freshman Year. Co-Captain and senior MEGAN DACOSTA talked about her favorite memory on the team, saying, "Playing Brockton away at night and celebrating the win the whole bus ride home." The laughter and cheer shared on the bus rides easily outweighed the losses.

"Family, coaches, and teammates inspire me to do my best." -ERIN REZENDES Motivation is a necessity during the season in order to do your personal best and also help your teammates. When asked what motivated them for the season, REZENDES said that her "family, coaches, and teammates inspire me to do my best." With the support of her family and friends, she was able to persevere and do her best for herself and her team.

GOALS

Whether started at the age of five or the age of fifteen, soccer has impacted our New Bedford High School Lady Whalers throughout their journey. From learning how to pass, to scoring their very first goal, these ladies have fought through thick and thin. All the intense practices leaving each of them with an overpowering sense of exhaustion, building them into the player they are today. "I started playing young and my family is always involved with soccer. It's is another part of me," MONICA EIRES says. Every practice she gives it her all.

Being able to represent our school every time they step out onto the field means a lot to these players. Representing a whole city does put some pressure on these ladies, but through teamwork, they get through it together. KAITLYN GONCALVES loves representing NBHS: "Being a Whaler means having pride in your school," said GONCALVES, who has such pride to be a Whaler, and showcases her talents day in and day out.

Putting an end to this season does leave the seniors with a hole in their hearts as they put that jersey on one last time. But all good things must come to an end, and these ladies have many memories to hold on to. "Playing on the high school team was an experience I will never forget," CLARE BLANCHARD says. She is obviously saddened to play her last time as a Whaler, but is excited for new beginnings.

PERFECT

From goal line to goal line, the Boys Varsity soccer team battled through their season with pride. The seniors on the team exemplified what it means to be a student athlete at the high school by putting the core values into practice daily. They played with pride, not just for the red and white they were adorned in, but also pride for each other as a team.

Senior captain CLAYTON DEMELO'S fondest memories of the season were, "making a second family and always fighting to win every game with my brothers." Family became a focus of the team this season, especially with not having student athlete ANDREW EUGENIO, due to injuries suffered earlier this year. The boys dedicated the season to him as he recovered, printing #AS9 on the sleeve of every jersey. Every win achieved was for him.

Moving backwards away from the ball, EMANUEL MEDEIROS gets open for a pass to turn and move up field. MEDEIROS is a two year offensive starter.

A highlight of the regular season, in the eyes of head coach JOHN MACAROCO, was, "Winning the Big Three versus undefeated Brockton to win the title."

The seniors will be able to look back on their season with a feeling of fulfillment and also sadness. MICHAEL FLOREZ said, "I feel kind of sad because I feel I would miss the players and miss being on the field." This perfectly sums up how all the seniors will be feeling. There is no doubt they made their school, their coaches, and each other very proud.

Golf

After a season of hard work and dedication, the New Bedford High School golf team can confidently say that they put their all into every game.

Being a Whaler is more than just playing sports or being a good athlete, it's about how you carry yourself in and outside of school. Being a student athlete is about treating each school day like a practice- taking it seriously and working hard. TY SPENCER says, "Being an athlete has really allowed me to manage my time better." A Whaler is not only represented in school; even when you leave, you are still representing New Bedford High. It is important to take pride in what being a Whaler really means.

Being a part of the golf team can help in creating many memories. ADAM BENTLEY says that his favorite memory was "when I got my first par at a golf course. I've never played before." This team pulled together and enjoyed playing together throughout the season. It is a young team this year, with a lot of room for growth and for fun. As a group, they relate to each

Being a swimmer at New Bedford High School consists of passion, hard work, and being part of a tight-knit team. For team captain ABIGAIL JUPIN, swimming is her passion. She started swimming at the YMCA at eight years old and hasn't stopped putting in hard work or improving herself to become a stronger swimmer since. "One of the biggest challenges I face is the torn labrums in my shoulders. However, I've learned to push through it and I've learned to manage the pain, so I think I've definitely conquered my biggest challenge," said JUPIN. Nothing can hold back the passion she, like many others on the swim team, hold for this sport.

The girls swim team consists of teammates that take pride in cheering each other on and being close, inside and outside of the pool. When reflecting on his team's sense of unity, COACH VERRAN said, "We have always had a close group of girls. They really enjoy being together and they are truly an awesome group that I enjoy coaching."

Dominating the COURT

Long hours, dedication, passion, and hard work are all aspects of being a part of the girls volleyball team. These qualities stand out this year especially as the team went undefeated, were crowned big three champions, and were south sectional finalist.

Teamwork is an extremely important aspect of volleyball, especially during practices and games. In fact, many of the girls play off-season together and it is clearly shown during their games. Not only are they a team, they are a family. ALISON BORGES even said, "My team means everything to me. We've spent countless hours together. We've all formed really close friendships that stick with us on and off the court, that will continue to stick with us even after the season." SACHINA TSUDA was a foreign exchange student, who quickly became close with the girls on the team. She stated, "Through playing volleyball, I learned the importance of friendship."

Being undefeated doesn't come solely from teamwork.

"My team means everything to me."

- ALISON BORGES

You have to put in effort and work hard as an individual every time you step onto a court. ALLISON PEREIRA even said, "Being able to play almost everyday is really important to me as an athlete because it means I am getting better and that helps make my team better." Overall, it was an incredible and memorable volleyball season, that built lifelong friendships.

FINISH

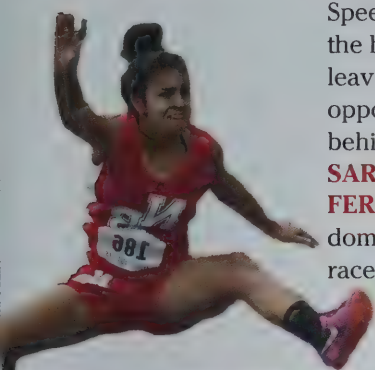

On your mark, get set, go! For these ladies, this single phrase in itself can bring so many memories and emotions as they prepare themselves for the race that's to come. Seeing themselves transform over these last four years in track has motivated them to end their last season with a bang. Running isn't for everyone, and these ladies get asked "Isn't it boring? All you guys do is run!" But they know it's more than just simply running. Almost anyone can run, but not everyone can do track. It's about pushing yourself further than you thought imaginable, reaching limits you perceived as impossible. "I thought I couldn't do it, but I did!" said CINDY NGUYEN. For NGUYEN, breaking boundaries she had set for herself this year was her greatest achievement. Being able to represent NBHS during their meets against other great teams is an honor. "I love representing my school in a positive way!" says senior captain MARINA HAGHIGHAT. She is proud to be a Whaler and go against other athletes from this

Track

Always looking to improve their times, the Winter Track Team is full of hardworking athletes who come from all corners of the athletics program at The High School. DESEAN SHIELDS, a first year shot putter, had a great season battling the large schools throughout the regular season. SHIELDS felt that "Dartmouth," was the most challenging to face because, "they have many skilled shot putters." Putting in the work and running all practice for six days out of the week is what allowed many runners to qualify for various state invitationals. The team may have lacked the depth of some of the schools they were up against, but everyone worked to achieve points in their races. Head Coach ISAIAH HOUTMAN pushed every individual to accomplish their goals. This included the teams' two state qualifiers for the winter season SARAH FERNANDES and NOAH JOHNSON. About the team COACH HOUTMAN said,

Although the actual match between two wrestlers only lasts a few minutes, the wrestlers spend months preparing for each match. Wrestlers put in everything they can as they prepare to face some of the toughest teams in Massachusetts. For ALFREDO BONGIORNO "Bishop Hendricken was by far the most elite wrestling squad we have faced in a dual as of yet".

The team puts in work before the start of their season to be both physically and mentally prepared for their three months ahead. DAVID CRESPO MEDINA said that wrestling challenges him in both ways. "When we have a wrestling match, there are many things that can go through our minds and we have to learn how to deal with that," said CRESPO.

In the moment before you dive into the water every thought counts. Every word you utter to yourself and your teammates is to motivate each other. The ability to push, not only yourself but others, is given through encouragement. Many people may believe that swim is an individual sport, but it's not. It's a team sport where one must be able to show confidence in the water and out of it. Captain DAMIAN PROULE-ZARATE explains, "I doubted my brother, then he squashed my expectations, making me realize how much I doubt myself. I was able to place first in both my events." Doubt can be overcome by perseverance, which is something that the NBHS team was able to bring to every meet. NYALLEN NUNES says, "Being the best isn't

HOOP

The 2018 season has been perhaps the most memorable for the Girls Basketball program in a long time. The Girls qualified for the State Tournament for the first time in seven years with a share of the Big 3 Championship and a 12-8 record. Coach JORDAN PINA has been building this team from a group of skilled players to one skilled family. PINA said, "This years group has been the most unified team in a while."

Basketball is an extremely physical sport, sprinting up and down the court, bodying their opponents, requires grueling workouts and hard practices. The girls dedicated long hours in pursuit of their achievements this season and they payed off. Senior ADINA LEE-RIVAS can attest to this as she stated her motivation to play the sport was to, "stay in shape." Traditionally the basketball program is up against a lot of tough opponents through the regular season, especially our Big 3 rival Brockton which girls defeated this year.

DEFENSE

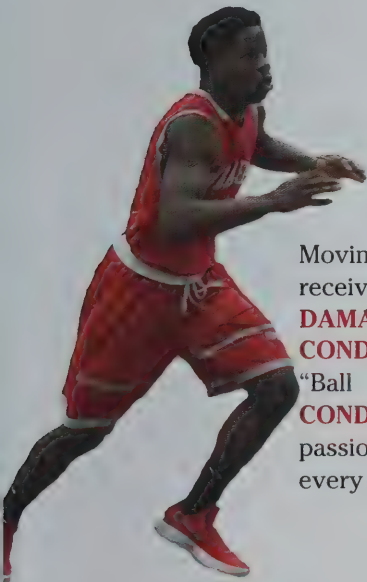

As a team who has been together since before middle school, the basketball boys are more than comfortable and familiar with each other's various strengths and weaknesses. With a team so comfortable, it is important to motivate each other. DAMANY CONDE credits his motivation to "being with my team. We're all friends and basketball just brings us closer together." This relationship allows them to lift each other up when necessary.

This group is very proud to be able to call themselves Whalers. As this year and season comes to an end, the Seniors are beginning to realize that this is their last time putting on that jersey. LAMARR ANTONE can't imagine being without his team and this school, which mean so much to each player. "Being a Whaler means being better and representing because it's always going to be Whaler nation," ANTONE said.

This being the last season for many, they have vowed to leave it all on the court. Covered in blood, sweat, and tears, their jersey is more than just a shirt. Knowing that they have limited chances of putting it on and playing can be a sad thought. ELIJAH DIAZ feels "really sad that this is my last year as a Whaler." Enjoying their last season as Whalers, there are no regrets left behind, only memories made to take with them beyond high school.

Describe the season in your own words

"Keeping in our minds to never give up no matter how hard things get."

-ABIGAIL GONZALEZ

"This season was one to remember. Learn how to be flexible, do flips. My favorite thing was making my own family with the girls."

-ZACHARY BARBAS

"I feel so lucky to coach and mentor these young women to be spirited ambassadors for NBHS."

-COACH ALCALA

Clubs & Activities BRANCHING OUT

At busy New Bedford High, not only is there the intensity and excitement of sports, but there also lies a whole society of students who prefer a more creative or academic approach to extracurriculars. There is an enormous array of clubs offered to every student from freshmen to seniors, giving them a chance to branch out in their skills or even out of their comfort zone. All the clubs offer a different atmosphere, but all sharing the same friendly openness. One such group is the Anime Club housed in D-106 and facilitated by MS. RIVERA. "Having a social circle of people who love what you love" is an aspect of anime that drives MS. RIVERA to bring it back every year. This "community" of sorts, as FRANCISCO MIRANDA put it, works school all day about grades and college, there is much enjoyment to be had. It isn't all fun and games though; organizations like JROTC and the National Honor Society require hard work and dedication to excel. Other activities, like our school's TV Production program, teach skills most kids wouldn't dream of learning. DAVID LOBO CARBAJAL can attest to this. CARBAJAL said, "I learned how to edit videos and make music beats." Branching out into clubs and activities is a vital part of our identity here at NBHS. BY: EVAN SOUTO

The play Romeo and Juliet began with a party thrown by the Capulet family. Everyone was having a great time, even Romeo, who had snuck into the Capulets home in order to attend the party.

"A plague on both your houses!"
-MERCUTIO
(played by ZARA LEMIEUX)

In charge of making sure everyone's microphones were audible through the speakers, MEGAN LIMA not only watched each performance, but made it happen. "My favorite part was when Romeo did the weird pull up thing, Mrs. Cadieux and I would laugh and say, 'manly Seth,'" said LIMA.

While the play was underway, there was one person making sure everything was going as planned, and that was JASMINE GARRICK. She was in charge of managing the play Romeo and Juliet. "My favorite part was being able to work with my closest friends," said GARRICK.

It must be hard to work on a play and remember all your lines! For ETHAN BOUSQUET, this was especially true because he didn't just play one character, he played two. He played Lord Montague and Friar John. "My favorite part of the play was the fight between Romeo and Tybalt," said BOUSQUET.

Grasping everyone's attention, Lady Capulet EVA WATTS-PIRES and Capulet JOSHUA BOTELHO welcomed their guests. "Acting in my mind is like an escape of reality, really having that moment of portraying your character," said BOTELHO.

The hero and heroine of the play, played by SETH SWEENEY and MADISON ASHWORTH, share a kiss during the iconic balcony scene.

Juliet, played by MADISON ASHWORTH confides in her nurse, played by LEAH LEAHY. "The most difficult part was probably memorizing and depicting all of the Shakespearean dialogue," said LEAHY.

Hazardous Love

Oh Romeo! Oh Romeo, wherefore art thou, Romeo?" With love in the air and suspense building over the course of the two hours, Romeo and Juliet took on a modern twist at the Bronspegal auditorium the weekend of December 1, 2017. The play was an outstanding success.

The cast brought the story to life with their passion for acting and their ability to become the characters. ZARA LEMIEUX not only played one character but played two, having double the pressure as Mercutio and Prince Escalus. "Acting is inherently personal because as actors we invest so much of ourselves into the character we portray, so it is very high stakes personally," said LEMIEUX the character. LEAH LEAHY played Juliet's nurse. "I felt excited about

"The nurse goes through tremendous highs and lows in Romeo and Juliet and I wanted to show that as accurately as possible."

the role, since it was my first stage play, but also nervous. The nurse goes through tremendous highs and lows in the play, and I wanted to show that as accurately as possible," said LEAHY. It was a tough play to pull off, but the cast managed to fully embrace their roles. MADISON ASHWORTH, who played Juliet, said, "I loved playing Juliet! Getting to play such an iconic character alongside my best friends was a wonderful experience." Romeo and Juliet ended up to be a complete success for both the participants and the audience.

HANICE ANDRADE, VICTORIA JASME, DESEAN SHEILDS, and LEILANI GONCALVES gather around for a classic selfie to show off their hard work of getting ready for the night. "It took me two hours to get ready. I straightened my hair and did my own make up," GONCALVES said.

1. Students of all ages danced around a dance circle, enjoying the night and the music. Looking back on the night, ZARA LEMIEUX said, "It was a fantastic and really eventful night. I loved how all of my friends could be there so we could all spend time together at a school function even though we're not all the same year!"

2. JENSY CHIVALAN DE LA CRUZ and WENDI GOMEZ GUTIERREZ enjoy adding more memories to their friendship at the homecoming dance.

2017 Homecoming TIME OF OUR LIVES

The first annual Homecoming at New Bedford High School hosted by the class of 2018 was an obvious success. Hundreds of students from all grades came together to have a good night and enjoy themselves. With food by D&D Caterers and CARLOS ACOSTA JR. DJ'ing, it was definitely a night to remember.

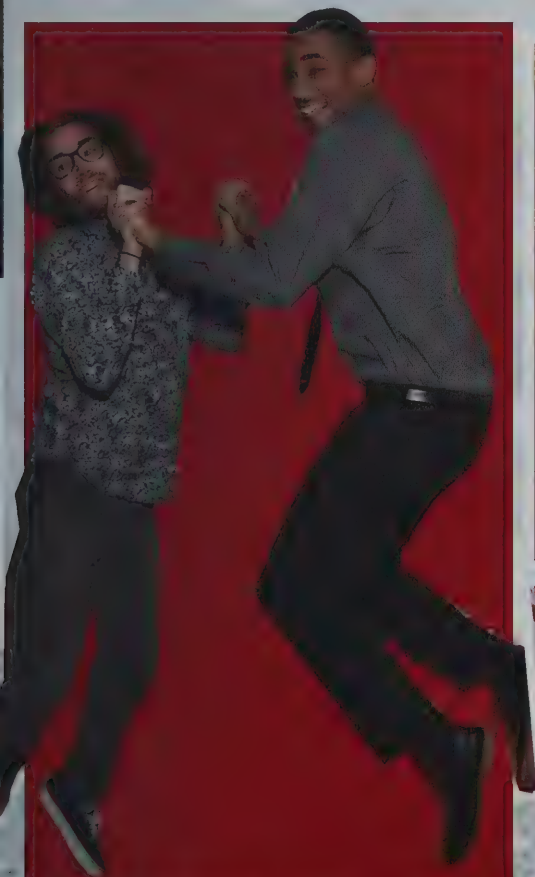

Considering New Bedford High School is well known for its diversity and culture, it was no surprise when ACOSTA played many different styles of music. From Cape Verdean to Brazilian music, everyone was up dancing and singing along. MARIAH CRUZ danced a lot, saying, "I appreciate the fact that they played different types of music knowing our school is so diverse."

Many used homecoming as a good excuse to dress up and show off, from Freshman girls to Senior football players, everyone looked their best; far different from their everyday sweatpants and hoodies.

"I loved being able to hang out with my friends."
-MATTHEW BILODEAU

For many Seniors, it was important to be able to share their last school dance with the whole school. Reflecting on the night, MATTHEW BILODEAU said, "I loved being able to hang out with my friends outside of classes." As the first homecoming, it was an event to be remembered for everybody involved.

Spirit Week

Ready to embrace each day and show their creativity, the New Bedford High School student body comes together to celebrate Spirit Week each November. With crazy customs and loads of make up, they show just exactly how much spirit they have to bring to the table. On November 15th, the Whalers begin Spirit Week. The first three days are Seniors only, while the following days allow the rest of the student body do get involved and show their spirit. Each student wishes to fully capture and love getting out of their daily routine with this change-up. The week was definitely something out of the ordinary, setting out to get every student involved and excite each individual to go to school and share their creativity and school pride with everyone.

Every student had their costume that they were the most proud of.

For CHRISTINE

TEVES RIBEIRO, "My favorite day had to have been pajama day because me and Zack dressed up in Rodolph onesies and polar bear slippers." It was a week in which a lot of students put in a lot of thought. It is hard to choose just one of the days as the best, but to CINDY NGUYEN it was not difficult: "My favorite day was inanimate object day when I got to dress up as bowling pins with my friends and we made a video of it."

-CINDY NGUYEN

With bright smiles, JOSHUA BOTELHO and ZACHARY BARBAS recreate "Netflix and Chill" for Inanimate Object Day. They got all types of reactions: "Teachers understanding and shaking their heads at us made it the real highlight of our day!" said BOTELHO.

KATIE LYONNAIS fully embraces spirit week. "My favorite part of spirit week was being able to do what I wanted with my boyfriend and coming up with creative ideas."

Prepared to begin the next game of Pac-Man, the four ghosts NICOLE NETO SOUSA, MIRIAM PEREZ MELARA, SASHA DO ROSARIO SANTOS, and MARIA CARDOSO plan their next move to defeat AVELINA ANDRADE, Pac-Man. "My favorite part was going out to buy costumes with my best friend," said NETO.

Taking a traditional approach ALYSSA ARAUJO, dressed as a vovó. "I had to get every detail into making me look like an old grandmother from Portugal," ARAUJO explained.

Slowly making her way down the hallway, ZARA LEMIEUX gets ready for a long day of lounging about on Senior Citizen Day.

Fully embodying Character Day, DAMIAN PROULE-ZARATE showed off his inner artistry by painting his face to resemble Drax from the Marvel Comics' "Guardians Of The Galaxy."

1. Suited up for Time Travel Tuesday, JOSE SUY MORENTE brought some real class to the halls of NBHS with his cane and top hat.

2. Rolling out of bed and heading to school MADISON ASHWORTH did not need to figure out an outfit for Pajama Day. "It was pretty nice getting to chill in fuzzy pants all day," said ASHWORTH.

3. Trying not to bust a hip, JOCELYN RIVAS hobbles around with her walker from class to class. "It was in my basement and I was excited to use it!" RIVAS proclaimed.

4. Showing that MR. SALMON'S homeroom has got pride, CARLOS ROMER, RYAN CLARK-BOWMAN, and ERITO CENTEIO pose on Time Travel Tuesday.

5. Obviously ready for Christmas CHRISTINE TEVES RIBEIRO and VIVIANNE REPOSA had some pretty festive attire on Pajama Day.

6. Taking trash to a whole new level RITA VASQUEZ makes garbage look good. "I decided to dress as trash because I knew I would make at least one person to laugh at my stupidity" VASQUEZ describes.

Showing some attitude, TIFFANY ARITA-MORALES was rocking a Brats Doll look for Character Day. ARITA-MORALES, "Grew up watching Brats Dolls and always had them."

Whether it's a metaphor for those around him or his own truth, DEVEN DIXON VALADEZ was an "L" on Inanimate Object Day. It may be seen by some as negative, but he was as positive as could be.

Abuela? Gram? Vovó? These are just a few titles JOSHUA PAGAN could have been called on Senior Citizen Day. PAGAN was quite a sight with some serious curves, He said, "It took me an hour to find all the stuff."

7. Exuding faith, trust, and pixie dust everywhere she went, MARIA CARDOSO dressed up as one of her favorite Disney characters for Character Day. "I just love Tinkerbell," CARDOSO chimed.

8. Dressed all comfy-cozy, TELMA DEPINA was able to experience the school day in comfort.

Strutting down the halls JUSTINA SANCHEZ in her Care Bear onsie was as ready as anyone to show her school spirit. Onsies were a popular trend on Pajama Day, but this one stood out.

YES WE DO

As seniors attending their last pep rally, emotions were everywhere. Some students were grateful they made it this far, while others were happy their long awaited journey was coming to an end. MIRANDA BAILEY feels "incredibly sad for it to be the last one, but it fills me with warmth to look back at all the memories." Being a senior at the last pep rally is a bittersweet moment, a memory to continue to look back on.

Some of the highlights of the pep rally include the cheerleaders featuring the varsity football players in their dance. The teachers also came together to perform a dance featuring some throwbacks. Something new that happened this year was that the U.S. Army showed up with cannons to shoot t-shirts and other goodies to whichever kids could catch them.

Looking back at their last four years, it really began to sink in that this was their final hoorah. When asked what his favorite part of being a Whaler has been, DARREN CARMONA said, "being able to take part in the pep rally, Mr. Whaler, and Cheerleaders and senior football players gather together before a friendly game of girls versus boys football.

The class of 2018 excitedly cheers on their peers in Red and White Day competition activities, such as hula hoop and basketball. The excitement of the events stuck with HAYLEE LUIZ long after it was over as she said, "My favorite part was when they had a contest between each class."

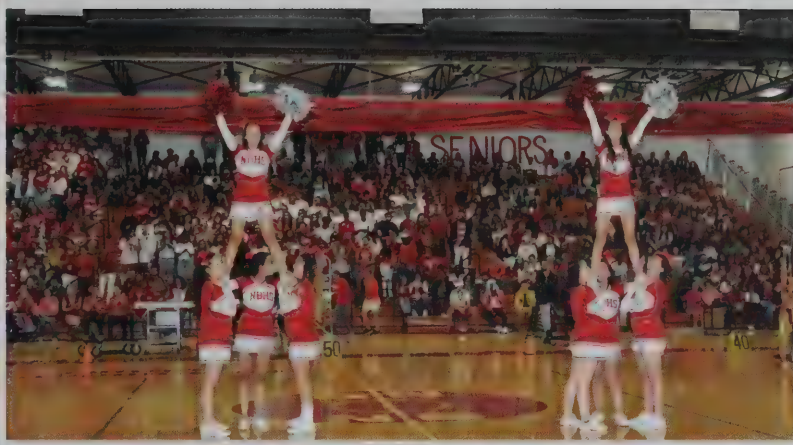

Teachers join together under the lead of MS. ALCALA, the cheer coach, in order to dance on Red and White Day in front of the whole school.

EMILIO CASIMIRO plays upbeat songs with the band while students load the bleachers waiting for activities to begin. CASIMIRO said his favorite part was "being able to see everyone get together to support our school."

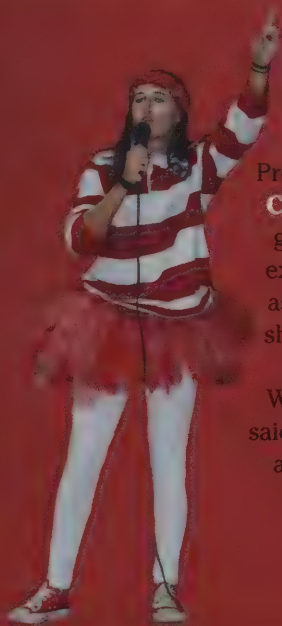

The Cheerleaders form pyramids, shouting "Beat Durfee."

What will you miss about being a Whaler?

Senior Class President PEYTON CALVAO fills the gymnasium with excitement. When asked about what she will miss most about being a Whaler, CALVAO said, "All of the pride and events that I share with my friends."

Senior band member, JAYANI OLIVER performs the field show for one of her last times. Reflecting, Oliver said, "I will miss the teachers most."

JAYLIANA BRITO and DARREN CARMONA wrap 2018 principal, MRS. CETENICH, in streamers, competing with the underclassmen and their respective principals. JOSHUA PAGAN and DAMANY CONDE watch the fun. Reflecting on the days events, BRITO said, "My favorite part was the sideshow. The sideshow made me extremely emotional because it's my last year in high school and my last pep rally."

COACH DEBRITO and COACH LOWE coach their final game of the season. "The highlight of the season was seeing the growth and maturation of a young team," said DEBRITO.

For the last time during football season, MEGAN LIMA goes out and performs her best. "Being able to show my NBHS pride" is what LIMA will miss the most.

JEREMY DACRUZ hustles and waits for the pass.

SHAHID BARROS attempts to run through a tackle by a Durfee player, amidst cheers from the many fans who came to watch the game.

KOLBY MCCOY plays hard on the field for his last time as a senior, backed up by his fellow Whalers. "Trying my best is what motivated me," MCCOY says.

Thanksgiving Day Game

MR. PACHECO, NBHS band director, leads the marching band, sending beautiful music across the field in the chilly air.

Color guard member JOSHUA BOTHELLO adds energy and zest to the music of the marching band during half time. "Color guard allows you to fade away from the world and really connect as one with your equipment and music," BOTELHO explains.

Playing together side by side their last time in the football season is bittersweet for both EMILIO CASIMIRO and ISAIAH CRESPO. "It was amazing! I wish I could do it again," CASIMIRO says.

The Whalers on the sidelines support their team, taking part in the much anticipated rival game.

A beautiful and calm day dawned for this year's Thanksgiving Day Game at Durfee High School in Fall River. Both sides scored early, with Durfee striking in the first quarter. New Bedford struck back in the second quarter, but sadly it wasn't enough for the Whalers, who ended the game with the close score of 6-8. "When we couldn't hit back, I was frustrated but I knew no matter what I couldn't just give up on my brothers and it was my last football game, so I had to go out with a bang," ISAIAH ROBERTSON said. New Bedford's offense tried their hardest to get to the end zone, showing true Whaler pride and determination.

There were several times where it seemed that New Bedford Whalers could do no wrong. As Durfee's defense was executed, New Bedford's offense stayed close, trailing only two points behind, with big plays all over the field. The hard work of the Whaler defense also kept the score close throughout the game. TERRIN OLIVER was proud of his team, saying that they "100 percent" exceeded expectations throughout this season.

"I couldn't give up on my brothers."

No play was bigger than the interception on what turned out to be Durfee's second-to-last possession of the game. Overall, the New Bedford Whalers played with all their heart and passion poured into the game, cheered on by loyal fans, as well as the New Bedford High School marching band. "Meeting the Drum Majors at Durfee High was truly enlightening and an unforgettable experience," LEAH LEAHY said.

CARLOS ACOSTA JR. was crowned this year's honorary Mr. Whaler when the event was canceled. He was the student to most consistently show up to practices, and definitely earned the honorary title. "It felt unreal!" ACOSTA JR. said.

#Winning

Cheer had its highlight moments and both captains ZACHARY BARBAS and ABIGAIL GONZALEZ could not be more proud. "We came in first place for almost all of the comps and second place for two of them, and we made it to states." said BARBAS.

EDWARD LIMA took second place at the annual accounting competition NBHS participates in, the Titan Challenge at UMass Dartmouth. "I felt great winning 2nd place. It was actually my first time going to this competition. I hope to win again some day," LIMA said.

A Class of Firsts...

This year's Science Club was the first to attend the Massachusetts State Science Olympiad. JOSEPH KINGARA and LIANG XU participate in the activities on March 17, 2018 at Framingham State University. High Schools from all over the state competed, and the club practiced every Thursday to prepare. This year's team made helicopters and hovercrafts to bring to the competition.

GABRIELA RIVAS GUARDADO broke a school record this year during the volleyball season. "I broke the record for most assists in one game. The record was 44 sets in 2007 and I had 46 in the game against Case," said RIVAS GUARDADO.

WILSON GOMES broke the school record in Wrestling this season. "I broke the record for having 125 takedowns in one season," GOMES explained.

Senior Class Advisor MR. MOSHER has seen this class change and make changes. The Class of 2018 was the first to host an all-school homecoming dance, as well as a lip sync battle. "This class had to over come a lot of adversity. I am so proud of how much you have preserved and excelled through it," said MOSHER.

ISAIAH CRESPO prepares himself to begin school this fall at the school of his dreams, the prestigious West Point Military Academy. He is the first student from NBHS in several decades to be accepted. "I had no plans on serving our country as a freshman, but now I can't see myself doing anything else," said CRESPO.

OUR STORY

Headlines & deadlines: those who are in the yearbook staff are very familiar with these words. Maybe a little too familiar. This class has provided these students with a way to display their creativity and make something they can be proud of. Although yearbook can be a happy place where they are able to let their creative juices flow, there are still mounds of stress caused by the great responsibility of creating the book from scratch. Being able to endure all that is thrown at them, and meeting deadlines on top of it, is very important. "I want my senior yearbook to come out nice," is ANNA TORRES' push to help her get through those sleepless nights.

Yearbook is a community of people who care not only about the tasks at hand, but about each other. Going through this journey and learning new things together has made them grow together. "It has helped me grow as a writer and given me a great group of people to be around," says ALLISON PEREIRA when asked how the class has impacted her. Seeing each other every day and collaborating on ideas creates a safe place for the staff, which is led by the adviser, MS. MILLER. "She helped me by putting certain responsibilities on my shoulders that help me become a leader," ZAHID AFZAAL said about MILLER.

Through all the ups and downs the staff has experienced, everything they have learned has impacted each individual, helping them grow.

Reminiscing on the past 4 years, many memories begin to flood in my head. In my head I had always pictured High school as a picture perfect, dancing and singing on lunch tables like "High School Musical" fantasy. All though the reality was a little far from that image, this was definitely an unforgettable experience. From Friday night football games to my last pep rally, I was able to make the best out of my time here and have gained a lot of support along the way. I hope that as you look back on your time. No matter how far you may travel outside of this city, always remember your roots

Sincerely,
MARINA HAGHIGHAT
 Editor In Chief

Being the managing editor is a very unique position in yearbook that I love. I really like doing all the behind the scenes work for a crazy group of yearbook club members. During my time in high school, I have grown mature, getting a taste of reality. I came to the realization that it doesn't matter what others think of you but what you think of yourself. After high school I plan to be independent, which this job has taught me to be.

Best regards,
ZAHID AFZAAL
 Managing Editor

Throughout my high school years, I was always told that life will become easy after high school and to enjoy every minute of it! One minute you're stepping into a new school, and the next you're walking across the stage to get your diploma. The position of Secretary has helped me establish time management, being able to branch out on my ideas and expand through creative writing. I wanted to accomplish creating a yearbook filled with our Whaler family, and looking back, I am confident that we have!
 Sincerely,
ANA NUNEZ
 Secretary

My involvement in creating the yearbook has helped me grow and allowed me to invest my time in two subjects that I am infatuated with: writing and business. It has also grown my deep appreciation of this city, of which I find myself so deeply rooted within. I have had the honor of connecting with small businesses through their support of creating this year's yearbook. When looking back on your yearbook, I hope you are able to feel it as a sweet victory to graduate. I hope you never forget your roots. The roots that helped you grow as one. I hope you never forget our roots

Humbly,

All That JAZZ

Being involved in the Jazz program is to be in something bigger than yourself. Each musician plays an important role in making the music possible, with long hours of hard work and dedication. Many of the students you see in the Jazz Band and the Jazz Combo are involved throughout the entirety of the music program, especially the seniors. LEAH LEAHY is a senior in Jazz Band, often being noticed as a leader in most of the programs the Fine Arts Department has to offer. When asked why she chose to lead, LEAHY simply said, "I like helping people."

It seems to be a common theme to be inspired by each other and varying musicians when involved in the Jazz Band and Jazz Combo. It's easy to understand why many of the musicians look up to their director, MR. MASON, as it is apparent he loves being involved in music just as much as he loves his students. In fact, he even said, "I love that it's different every time, constantly changing and evolving. It is exciting to see the growth in my students."

"It is exciting to see the growth in my students."

- MR. MASON

Many of the students in the jazz ensembles find themselves inspired to make music and to get better by musicians they look up to. When asked who they look up to, JAYANI OLIVER said, "Lee Dias," who plays percussion at NBHS, and KAMAL RITTER-FEBUS said, "Lil Dicky." Overall, Jazz Band and Jazz Combo have given seniors somewhere to make music and be inspired.

GET IN TUNE

Being a part of a group, like the Marching Band, throughout all four years of high school creates an unexplainable bond between people. It goes beyond friendship and into a more family-like feeling where you grow close through the constant sharing of laughs with fellow members. Senior trumpet player and drum major LEAH LEAHY stated, "We can rely on anyone." At the end of the day, they will be able to leave high school with an unbreakable bond created by priceless memories to follow them into the future.

Along with memories to carry with them, they've also acquired some life-changing lessons. Aside from just teaching them to play instruments, MR. PACHECO has also taught them many valuable lessons that they can take with them beyond graduation. ANGELICA NASCIMENTO said one thing she has learned from band and Mr Pacheco is "how to properly manage my time: "I had to learn how to work around my schedule." Knowing this,

NASCIMENTO can head into her future with strong skills in place, both musically and otherwise .

The students, aside from learning things to help them in the future, have also credited band for helping them get through things in the present. MEGAN LIMA said that "making music in a safe place has been an outlet to express myself." This class has not just been a place to build skills, but a healthy way to express their emotions in a family-like environment.

"Band is an outlet to express myself."

Concert Chorale preforms at the Winter Concert at NBHS on December 12th.

The Choir Program Sing Your Heart Out

Joining the choir program is a commitment throughout all of high school. Although many students enter the chorus full of nerve, not knowing one another, they leave as a family. It's an opportunity not only to grow their love and knowledge of music, but to build lifelong relationships. Looking back, ALLISON PEREIRA said, "Entering the choir program was one of my best choices. It's one of my favorite parts of my school day, and I have been able to make lifelong friends that I am lucky to consider family."

The choir program isn't all fun and games, though. It is hard work and dedication that keeps the students going, many of whom want to incorporate the arts programs into their post graduation plans. In fact, the chorus doesn't just perform at NBHS events. It's also a major goal for them to compete at show choir competition each winter. For many, this is their favorite part.

TORI CALBO said, "I am going to miss the Present arms, order arms, about face, march! For JROTC members, this phrase and many other commands have been instilled in them since their freshman year. Members learn different commands and their meanings for everything they do as a part of preparation for their shows.

Joining JROTC is a choice that takes commitment. "I wanted to try something new and different," said EVELYN RAMIREZ GOMEZ. As for many other members, joining this group was sparked by a passion to serve in the army one day. This program allows the students to prepare themselves mentally, physically, and emotionally for their future, whether it is in the army or not.

From earning medals, to showing off their uniforms in school on Wednesdays, to winning different competitions, each year has

Planting^a Grove

A grove is a group of trees grown up through the years. They leave their mark on the world with their strength and beauty, just as the NBHS Seniors have done. This class is leaving their spirit rooted deep in the school.

Preserving these memories with the yearbook wouldn't be possible without the support of those surrounding the class of 2018. They've grown through moments and milestones, made possible by their parents, teachers, peers, friends, and community. Helping the seniors grow as people, in fact when looking back ADINA LEE-RIVAS even said, "High school has influenced me by realizing I want to be someone who makes a positive impact on people."

When entering high school, many students are excited for the last four years of school anticipating moving forward in life. downs that can teach you life lessons. ALYSSA EDENBERG even said, "I've changed from learning how to cope with certain situations many find hard to deal with. I've grown to be more mature."

When looking back, the graduated

"I feel like I've grown through learning and getting to know myself better."

of the friends, seniors will be able to remember what the school and community have given them. While reflecting, DAMANY CONDE said, "I feel like I've grown through learning and getting to know myself better than I did before." Hopefully, this stays with them, long after they are students as they move on to experiencing new milestones and making new memories.

If I could give you one thing in life,
I would give you the ability to see yourself through my eyes.
Only then would you realized how special you are to me.
Thank you for helping me create all of these memorable moments that I'll keep with me forever.
I love you.

Never forget that I love
you. Life is

Turning Over a New Leaf

The End of an Era

The end of high school marks a significant point in life. You have survived all four years of high school and defeated all the odds that faced you, especially as a NBHS student in the class of 2018. We entered the school as one single group of Freshman in hopes of making high school our own, and in the past four years it has turned into a home. NBHS has become our roots, from which each student grew into the person they are today and who they aspire to be. Branching out from these roots can be hard. ALEXIS GORDEN even has said, "I am sad my high school experience is over, but I am glad I have new opportunities." As we look back and realize how hard letting go is, we also need to remember to look forward to turning over a new leaf.

This may be harder than it seems, as moving forward means learning to let go. For

TELMA

DEPINA this is a relatable concept, reflecting back she said, "I'll miss my teachers and some friends." Feeling connected to those who helped us determine our future is a feeling shared by many, as we prepare for what is ahead of us: going to college, dedicating ourselves to our work, or even joining the armed forces. JUSTINA SANCHEZ even proudly said, "I plan on going for my teachers card," following in the footsteps of her mother and after working at the Whaler's nursery.

It may be the end of an era, but turning this leaf over means starting a new journey that will continue to shape our lives for a long time to come. It is time to expand our roots and grow into something new.

BY: ALLISON PEREIRA

Ecstatic to be in class, BRITNEY SAMAGAIO, sits poised ready to learn. SAMAGAIO'S favorite subject is history, she said, "I enjoy learning about the past and what created our world today."

WHAT ADVICE DO YOU HAVE FOR THE INCOMING SENIORS?

SETI PEREIRA

"Take as many internships as you can."

MASON MATIAS

"Don't take M&M's class."

GABRIELLE GARCIA

"Take advantage of opportunities."

WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING FORWARD TO AFTER GRADUATION?

AVELINA ANDRADE

"I look forward to working."

ZACHARY FURTADO

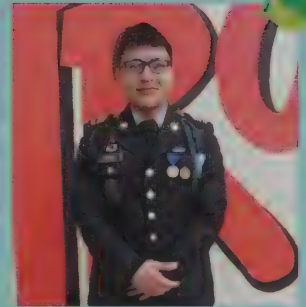

"Being out of here."

AYDEE MORALES RIVAS

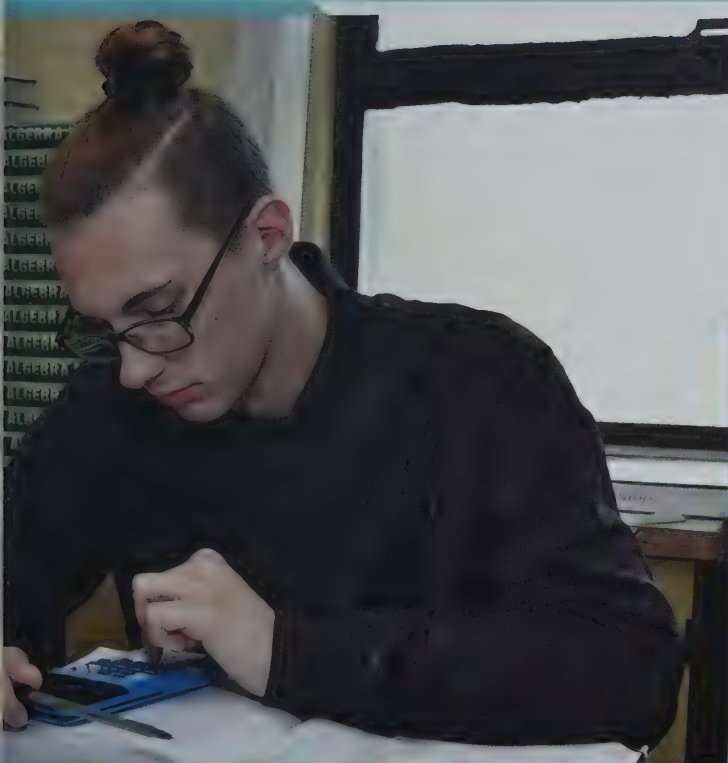

"I look forward to going on to college."

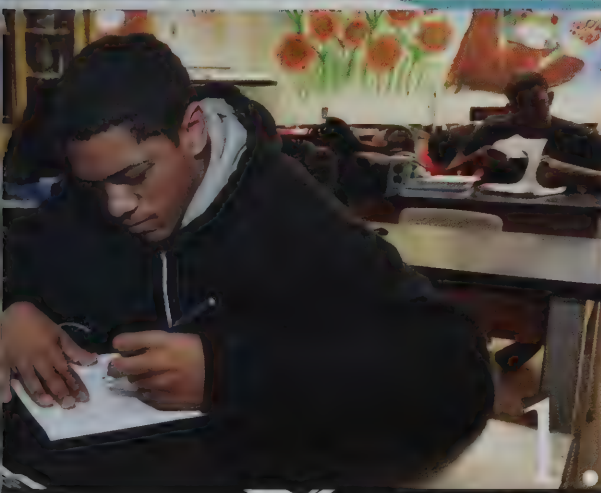

JOSE SUY MORENTE

"Going to work and college."

Zoning out distractions as he focuses on his work, JORDAN PAQUETTE'S favorite class is MR. BATE'S psychology class. PAQUETTE loves how his teacher is "interactive and engages with the students."

1. Writing diligently LESTER BURGO III enjoys his time in science class.

2. Letting his creativity flow, CHAKAN HARDY JR. brings his imagination to the screen. HARDY enjoys Digital Production because he is, "able to make cool stuff, like game symbols."

ALMA MENJIVAR ZEPEDA and YOBANI TIX TIX stay focused in AP Statistics. When asked about the class, TIX TIX says, "It's not so difficult." He will definitely use these skills later in life. He plans to "go to college for engineering at BCC then on to UMASS."

Grow & Bloom

What was your favorite school lunch?

"Max Sticks."
-KIARA RIOUX

"Nachos."
-FANTASIA CORNELI

"Chicken Teriyaki."
-JUAN RIVAS JR.

"I bring it from home. It tastes better."
-BRUCE AMARAL

1

In Music Fundamentals, CESAR CHINGO GARCIA learns about the basics of music, growing in his creativity. "I like learning new notes, sounds and experiencing instruments. Playing at the concert was fun," CHINGO GARCIA remembers.

2

JUANA SUAR CALEL and ANA GONZALEZ celebrate after they buy their senior class yearbook in Ms. Miller's room, knowing that their last year of high school is coming to an end soon.

3

Focused in class, MARANDA BAILEY works on her assignment, enjoying the use of her new school laptop, which was given to each student at the beginning of this year.

4

JIN LIN FENG works on AP Calculus, a class that really stretches most students. "Calculus is fun, especially seeing people suffering for it," LIN FENG says.

Preparing for the future

In Entrepreneurship class, NICHOLAS MEDEIROS and ROBERTO DEJESUS work diligently on their classwork. "I like Entrepreneurship because Mr. P is a great teacher and we get to create our own business," MEDEIROS says. DEJESUS adds, "The class is a great experience. Teaching done by Mr. P. makes learning about business and money management easy." The students in the class know they will have a chance to use these tools in their future careers.

Looking Back

"My favorite memory is the Special Olympics"
-SAVANNAH CORNELL

"My favorite memory is being in English class"
-ELIZEE SYLVAINS

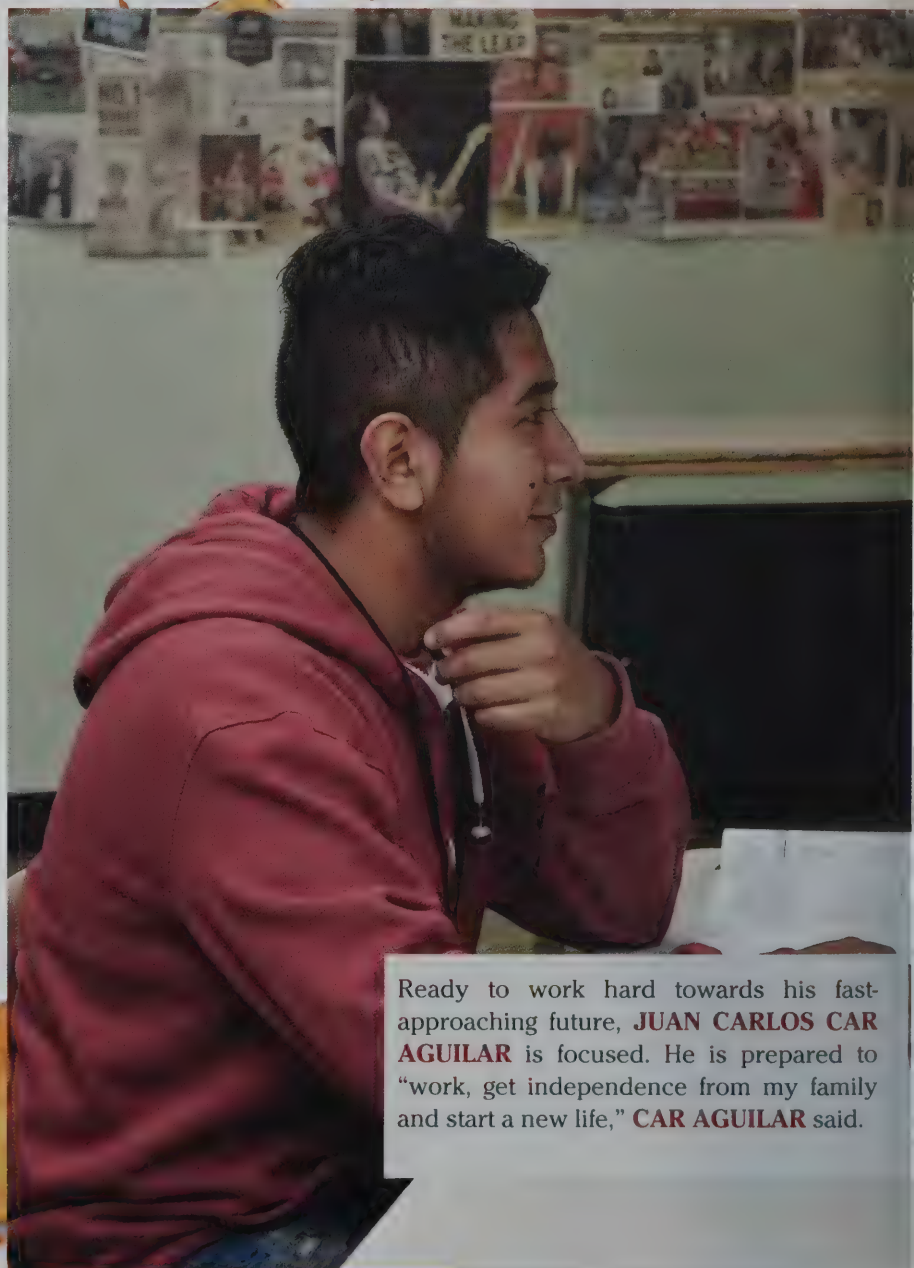

MIGUEL MATEO IXCUNA hopes to be remembered as "a good player that's addicted to sports."

For WALDO RODRIGUEZ DOMINGUEZ, New Bedford High School has been "a great experience, I learned a lot of how to manage myself and how to be a Whaler."

As a Senior looking back to when she was a Freshman, YAIMIRA ALDAMA would advise her Freshman self to "not to slack on work and go to school every day."

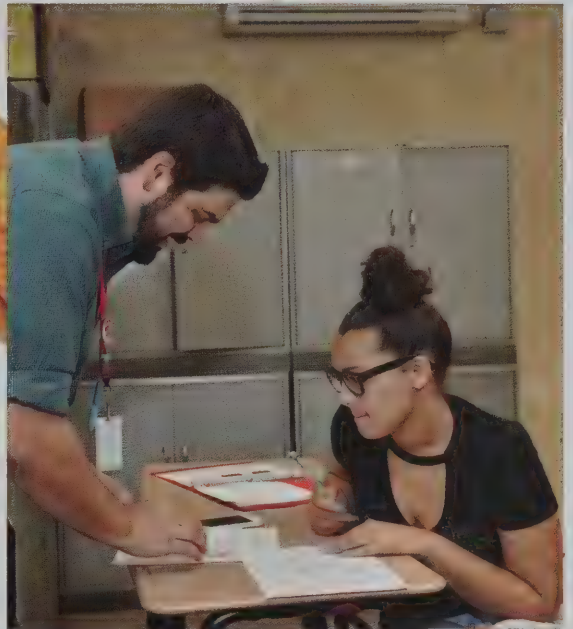

Ready to work hard towards his fast-approaching future, JUAN CARLOS CAR AGUILAR is focused. He is prepared to "work, get independence from my family and start a new life," CAR AGUILAR said.

Looking focused and attuned to her work, LOUISE DUARTE is looking forward after high school to “attending college and becoming a SWAT officer.”

Focused on Mr. Mason's instructions, JAYLYNN BOURQUE listens intently before she does the assignment.

And Looking Forward

“I’m going to Florida and do job searching.”

-NAIHOMY TACARDON SALAMO

“My summer plans are to pass the ASVAB test and go to the Navy.”

-ADENILSON RAMOS DOS REIS

“I’m going to work and save money so I can travel and start my career in college.”

Crimson Log Colophon

The Crimson Log Staff would like to extend our sincerest gratitude to MR. and MRS. MARÉ and the staff of Maré Studios & Gallery for their help in creating the 79th volume of the Crimson Log. MR. NELSON MARÉ took the portraits and pictures featured throughout the book.

The 2018 Editor-in-Chief MARINA HAGHIGHAT and Managing Editor ZAHID AFZAAL were in charge of the production of the 79th edition of the Crimson Log, working closely with their adviser MS. MILLER. The New Bedford High School yearbook was created by the seven- student staff in class and after school from September, 2017 to April, 2018. The staff was led by Editor-in-Chief MARINA HAGHIGHAT, Managing Editor ZAHID AFZAAL, Secretary ANA NUNEZ, and Business Manager ALLISON PEREIRA.

The book is 8 1/2 x 11 inches. The cover uses process color lithography and gloss lamination. Inside, the endsheets are printed using process color lithography, and each page is printed in full color on premium quality 100 pound gloss stock.

The staff designed layouts on seven Dell laptop computers, using eDesign to make the pages of the yearbook. The cover was designed and created by ANA NUNEZ and produced in eDesign.
